Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kosaka et al. (US 5,161, 103).

Kosaka et al. disclose a method for analyzing data that represents a system that varies over time by beginning at a first initial moment, acquiring said data during an initial first duration and determining an initial first range of said data between a minimum value during said initial first duration and a maximum value during said initial first duration; and comparing said first range of said data during said initial first duration to an expected range of said data during said initial first duration based on Brownian motion (see figures 1, 5, 7, col. 2-3, col. 5 lines 58-col. 7 line 55).

Specifically as to claims 2-21, see above rejection for claim 1.

Response to Arguments

The Objection to the Specification has been withdrawn.

Applicant's arguments filed 4/28/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Art Unit: 3624

The applicant has again traversed the restriction requirement. The traversal is on the ground(s) that applicant submits that the current restriction requirement is based on conclusory statements that are not supported by reasons, and are not the result of "careful administration." This is not found persuasive because Examiner clearly stated the reasons for the restriction requirement and the undue burden and burdensome search required by the Examiner to search the 7 distinct groups of invention.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore FINALITY is maintained.

Applicant's arguments do not comply with 37 CFR 1.111(c) because they do not clearly point out the patentable novelty which he or she thinks the claims present in view of the state of the art disclosed by the references cited or the objections made. Further, they do not show how the amendments avoid such references or objections.

Applicant's arguments fail to comply with 37 CFR 1.111(b) because they amount to a general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references.

With regards to applicant's arguments against the Kosaka et al reference, Examiner disagrees. Kosaka et al. discloses all the limitations of the claimed invention as cited in the above rejection.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 3624
